UPCOMING OPPORTUNITIES

VIRTUAL WORK EXPERIENCE AND MORE

REACH — King's College London

Resilience, Ethnicity, and AdolesCent Mental Health

The Institute of Psychiatry, Psychology & Neuroscience at King's College London encourage anyone to get involved in the program. It doesn't matter if you haven't studied psychology before or if you don't want to go to university – they have developed the placement to be interesting and useful for all! The programme runs for five days and covers a separate topic each day.

During the work experience week, the REACH team also run optional workshops for those who want to ask questions or hear more about careers, studying psychology and applying for university.

The VFX Festival 2021 16th – 18th March

Hosted by Escape Studios, the VFX Festival returns in 2021 and will celebrate the theme of 'limitless creativity' in the visual effects, animation, games, and motion graphics industries. The virtual festival will begin in March and will feature insight into award-winning productions, inspiring expert-led presentations, careers advice, as well as the latest trends, technology, and innovation from around the world.

Each year the festival brings together an amazing creative community, allowing emerging talent to explore the best of the creative industries and gives opportunities for professionals to expand their knowledge.
